L. C. Keading, Standard Oil Representative, greets Joe Alvarez, R. U. H. S. Fall Student Body President.

Pointing out various divisions of the Oil Refinery is Mr C. Keading to members of the Shield Staff: Walker, Photographer; Annette Cena, Editor, and Diane Atwood, Assistant Editor

Looking over the grounds of the Richmond Refinery are Larry James, Student Association Spring President, and Mr. L. C. Keading, Standard Oil Company Executive.

Foreword

As the theme for the RUHS 1960 Shield, we have chosen an industrial organization. This industry, the Standard Oil Refinery of Rehmond, California, is intimately associated with the life and growth of our city. It has also made itself felt in certain of the most treasured traditions of our school. For example, both Standard and Richmond Union High share the symbolic colors, red and blue. Also, both claim the fight name, "Oilers", and our mascot is the oil can Also, both claim the fight name, "Oilers", and our mascot is the oil can.

In choosing the Standard Refinery as our theme, we were struck by the idea that many parallels can be found between the production of oil, on the one hand, and the education of high school students, on the other. To illustrate these similarities, we have taken several pictures at the local refinery which, we think, will bear out the aptness of our idea. Further, we have sketched on each division page some significant innovation or event which, in the past sixty years, has both directly affected the fortunes of the Standard Refinery, and has also, indirectly, symbolized certain facets of school life.

A tanker, for example, symbolizes the first step in the story of oil. As the tanker carries the crude oil to the refinery, the administrative staff and the faculty may be said to carry knowledge and instruction to students. The sketch of an oil well signifies the primary importance of oil, and by extension, the basic nature of knowledge.

Government is portrayed by the many supply lines which carry the oil throughout the plant. This parallels the function of student body officers as they exercise their leadership in school affairs. The drawing of the automobile indicates the period from 1900 to 1910 when gas and oil were first consumed in large quantities by the auto, and a growing number of students were, we insist, consuming knowledge.

Again, just as petroleum is distributed from the control room throughout the plant to become different materials, so the well-ordered plans of the Seniors direct them toward their future. The sketch represents the World War I decade of 1919-1920 in which the oil industry made great advances, and education in world problems assumed new importance.

importance.

The distillation plant transforms raw materials into finished products in much the same way as classes create an informed citizenry. The drawing of the tractor indicates that just as more complex machines require better fuels for operation, so social progress demands finer education for the student.

drawing of the tractor indicates that just as more complex machines require better fuels for operation, so social progress demands finer education for the student.

A residuum stripper takes the refined oil and further refines it, making it into better material, capable of more uses, In school the student may improve himself by participating in activities. The sketch indicates that in the depression years of 1930-1940 the Works Progress Administration promoted road-building, one of the many projects which helped to ease our nation's burden.

Student organizations foster what might by called the by-products of education, as does California Research, which creates useful by-products by investigating the potential of oil. The drawing, representing the decade of World War II and the Korean War, suggests that organizations, dynamic and often explosive in their actions, not only contribute activities and ideas to the school, but also make possible the development of the students' potential.

Nowhere in school life are teamwork, cooperation, and skill so basic as in athletics. It is these qualities utilized by industry, that have made possible the construction and operation of the canfiller. The drawing of the space satellite symbolizes the fact that teamwork, cooperation, and skill, combined with scientific knowledge, have led to the penetration of space.

The Thermajor Catalytic Cracking Unit, known as the Cat-Cracker, has led to the creation of new products from oil, and may be compared to the lively class discussions and debates from which new concepts and insights arise. The complexities of marketing gasoline, the end product of oil, are represented by the sketch of the Standard Oil Station, which, we think, is a most proper symbol for our final section. Although our theme, the Standard Oil Refinery of Richmond, California has forced us to interpret the educative process as a mechanical one, which, in fact, it is not, we feel that the industrial metaphor is a good one, since we and our school exi

Dedication

Once in a blue moon a school counts among its faculty a teacher like Mr. Roy Fogel. Hearty and cheerful. Mr. Fogel walks among us, making us feel that school is good and life is good. Just what it is that Mr. Fogel communicates so effortlessly, is hard to pin down. But we think that in essence it comes from his own solid goodness, his genuine feeling of good will toward others, and his sensitive perception of the great human values that ennoble man's strivings. Whatever it is, we like it and prize it beyond words, especially since it spills over into his teaching.

Mr. Fogel teaches Civics and United States History. He does this with thoroughness and zest. We like the way he teaches, because we learn, and also because he makes the whole business of learning natural and attractive. The humor, warmness, and personal enjoyment which Mr. Fogel injects into his classroom instruction make his classes an unfailing source of intellectual stimulation and sheer fun, In fact, a buoyant, brainy atmosphere seems to accompany Mr. Fogel wherever he goes.

At home in his own "metropolitan Pinole," Mr. Fogel leads a busy, happy life. Around his charming house he is oftentimes lost to sight, holed-up in his shop, doing extraordinary things with radios, or with the paraphernalia of photography. Frequently, when he is in sight, he and Mrs. Fogel take their three young sons, ages thirteen, eleven, and seven, on lively sorties into the countryside, hiking and trout fishing. Spring and summer find Mr. Fogel the moving spriit of the Pinole Little League Ball Club, a splendid organization to which his sons are just as devoted as he. But though Mr. Fogel devotes himself to the practical aspects of small-fry baseball, he is a sports fan in the very widest sense. His particular weakness, however, is football.

Despite Mr. Fogel's passionate allegiance to Pinole and its Little League, he is not a native born and bred. He was born in San Francisco, went to school in Oakland, and graduated from the University in Berkeley. During World War II he was an instructor in an Army Air Corps School of Meteorology in Illinois. But all this early gallivanting hardly counts (except for the wooing and winning of Mrs. Fogel in Illinois), since Mr. Fogel is now entirely root-bound in Pinole and school-bound in Richmond Union High.

This state of Mr. Fogel's affairs fills us with contentment. From the distant time when we were sophomores, Mr. Fogel has been our Class Advisor, and the fact that we have had such good times and have prospered so greatly is due to him and him alone. We know this since we know firsthand his patience, his sense of duty, his grand good nature, his keen know-how and executive ability in getting us through the baffling mazes of highly organized social events. Because we appreciate so much all the many fine things that Mr. Fogel has done for us, and also because we simply want to salute such an excellent and happy man, we, the Class of 1960, dedicate our Shield to him.

Memories of the class of 1960

With a total of 966 students, the class of 1960 entered Richmond Union High School in September of 1957 and swelled the enrollment of the school to 2.381 and swelled the enrollment of the school to 2,381.

It was frightening being in the midst of all the activities, but the new students didn't let this bother them. This joyful fear didn't stop the class, as David Vincent was elected to lead the class through the first semester. Assisting David were Viriginia Diaz, vice-president, and Norma Hall, secretary-treasurer. Charlene Paugh, Lucia Midgley, and Diane Atwood kept the class active in Girls' League. Leading the class in yells were Pat Dougan and Carolyn Couser.

The prominent Sophomore football squad consisted

The first activity of the class was "Silhouette", the 1-10 dance. Under the leadership of the class and Girls' League officers, this dance was a roaring success. With a new-found confidence, the Class of '60 leaped

With a new-found confidence, the Class of '60 leaped into the second semester by electing Joe Alvarez as president, Carolyn Couser, vice-president, and Virginia Diaz, secretary-treasurer. Representing the class in Girls' League were Catherine Fry, Diane Atwood, and Carolyn Rawls.

The Sophomore Class lent a helping hand to the sports of basketball, baseball, track, and swimming. In basketball were Carl O'Bryant, Mike Seuferer, Ed Green, Norris Lesue, Mark Taylor, Bob Bayless and Bob Wager on the Junior Varsity squad. The "B" team consisted of Roy Clark, Roy Ambercrombia, and Alex Brown. There were two representatives, Gene Fowle and Lyol Bombardere, for the Varsity Swimming team. Members of the Varsity Baseball team included Mark Taylor and John Wright.

Holding down positions on the Junior Varsity baseball squad were Jerry Ladd, Carl O'Bryant, Dennis McCain, Roy Abercrombia, Ed Green, Roy Clark, Frank Cheslarech and Joe Banducci. Positions on the track team were held by Lauren Peterson, Henry Peppens, Darrel Rubins, Dave Steele, Mike Seuferer, Bill Bembree, and Bob Bayless.

April 11, 1958 was the date of the Sophomore Hop, "Softness of Spring". The class was represented in C. S. F. by twenty two members.

After three months of vacation the members of the class returned as Juniors. The girls brought with them the fad of white blouses and blue vests. Bill Prather, Pat Dougan, and Judy Woodard filled the positions of the 1-11 class officers. Honor was given to the class when Carolyn Lum, Joyce Perata, Joe Alvarez, Lucia Midgley, and Bill Prather served in the fall semester on the Board of Commissioners. Holding the office of Girls' League vice-president was Annette Cena. Working with her were junior representatives Barbara Kim, Carolyn Rawls, and Katherine Flury.

Rawls, and Katherine Flury.

The Junior dance, "Make Believe", was held after the El Cerrito football game. The queen of the game and her attendants reigned over the affair.

The yell leaders remained the same, but Jan Gayanich and Jeanette Fulco marched in front of the band as majorettes.

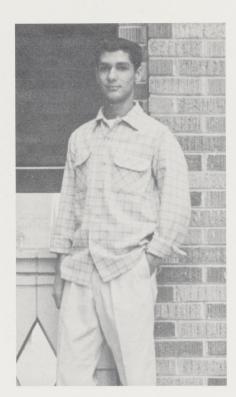

Seventeen male members of the class became part of the Varsity Football team. The basketball season was one of the most successful and one of the happiest seasons R. U. H. S. has conquered. The team became NACL champions and then captured the ACAL title. Going to the Tournament of Champions, the team placed third. The rooting section also won a trophy for one of the best sections presented at the tournament. Six members of the team represented the Junior class.

Six members of the team represented the Junior class.
Six members of the Spring Board of Commissioners came from the Class of '60. These members were Sue Patchin, Joe Alvarez, Carolyn Lum, Diane Atwood, Barbara Kim, and Bill Marsh.

Twenty-seven members were chosen for C. S. F. Catherine Fry was chosen Girls' League vice-president, while Charlene Paugh and Marry Orr became secretary and treasurer, while Merle Turner, Gloria Turner and Penny Hogg were Junior Representatives.

"Silver Bells"

Committe Heads—Diane Atwood, Refreshments; Barbara Kim, Decorations; Carolyn Couser, Entertainment; Norma Hall and David Vincent, Co-Chairmen.

1-12 Dance

The Debs entertain with "Silver Bells."

December 4, 1959

Some of the couples are taking time out from dancing.

Eileen Bales, Vera La Londe, and Carolyn Lum are going to their Social Studies classes where they are outstanding.

Outstanding Seniors

Ruby Traylor, Nancy Payne, John Hamers, and Ron Pruett prove practice makes perfect, as they were chosen outstanding in art.

Looking over some material before an experiment are Carolyn Lum, Robert Lum, Robert Oberg, and Vera La Londe. Science is the field in which they are tops.

Enjoyment of sewing has brought Barbara Gariano to the top in Home Economics.

Sharon Shaw and Alice Resch, Commercial whizes, discuss one of their assignments.

Retha Dawson, outstanding in Spanish, shows Robert Oberg, the outstanding Senior in French, the difference in the sentence structure of the two languages.

The Vocational Shops are the classes in which these four boys shine. They are Steve Lucero, Gordon Huntingdale, Howard Bonwell, and Bill Looney.

Going over a section of music are Marie Craven and Lorelei Larson, who are outstanding in this field.

Smiles of happiness are given by Sheri Moody and Marie Craven, for they were chosen outstanding in Girls' Physical Education.

Outstanding in Boys' Physical Education are Bill Zimmerman, Irvin Clark, and Ray Lopez. Not Pictured: John Straughter.

In the background is a problem, which best describes Mathematics, the class where Robert Ross, Larry James, Carolyn Lum, Robert Seeley, Robert Oberg, and Vera La Londe are superior.

"Neptunites" dance to "Mean Old Blues"; Shirley Peurifoy, Choreographer.

Talent—Seated: Catherine Fry, Diane Atwood, and Penny Hogg. Standing: Veronica Sterrett, Norma Hall, Jerry Cates, and Lucia Midgley.

"Swingin' Into Orbit"

Space Chorus exhibits costumes.

"Exotics" dance to "Quiet Village"; Bobbie Thomas, Choreographer.

Master and Mistress of ceremonies, George Chumbley and Pat Ellis, chat gaily after a successful show.

Mi Ha Sha

Ta so Ga Ja Bo

Talent—Seated: Marie Reynolds, Anna Carson, Sharon Heller, Marie Craven, and Jan Gayanich. Standing: Barbara Orr, Pat Dougan, Jann Squires, Julie Burmester, and Loretta Bonham.

Luna-Tics dance to "Like Young". Jann Squires, Choreographer.

Senior Gaieties October 29, 1959

More of the Space Chorus exhibiting costumes.

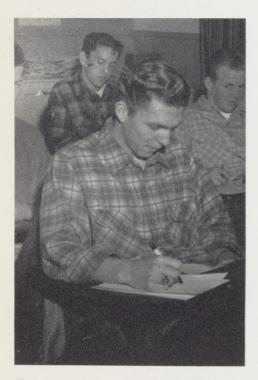

Miss Alberta Best, director, receives thanks from Artis Harrison and Ann Wall, student directors, and Mary Shaub, Stage Manager.

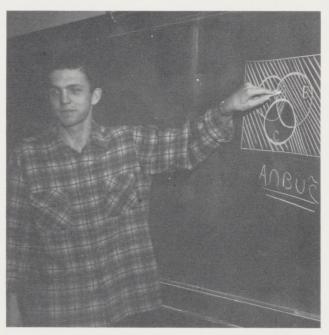

First period finds Gary in Electronics, a major course for this senior as he plans to further his study in this field.

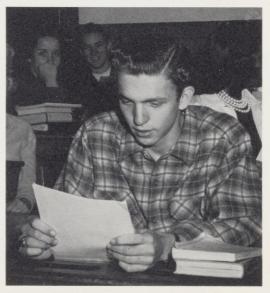

Third period Gary is in Family Living, a senior social studies elective course. He finds this subject will help to make him a well-rounded individual.

A Typical Day With A Senior

As a tribute to the Senior Class, the Staff would like to present "A Typical Day With a Senior." In showing the curriculum for a Senior in RUHS, this project is being fulfilled by following a Senior, Gary Clark, through his daily program. Gary, who is majoring in electronics, is enrolled in a college preparatory course.

Second period Gary is explaining a problem in Trigonometry. Gary is an outstanding student in mathematics.

Fourth period Gary intently reads his English A composition, which he has ready to present.

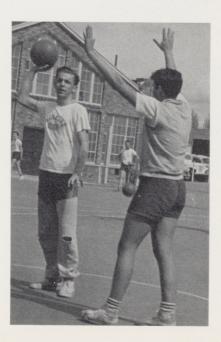

Fifth period finds Gary with his pals at lunch time. Gary agrees that this is one of his most important classes.

Sixth period Gary sits in study hall and is a very conscientious and hard worker.

Eighth period, the last class of the day, Gary attends Physical Education for a well-rounded program of a typical Senior.

"Pink Flamingo"

February 19, 1960

Senior

Party

Dancers don't seem to mind the flash of the camera.

The above couples all agree that dancing can be fun.

Frank Todd and his date enjoy the music produced by Larry Shire and his band.

Around the punch bowl are Harvey O'Neal and Gary Clark.

These couples are looking on as the entertainers perform.

Mary Ellen Tickner entertains as she sings "All of Me."

Bill Marsh and Winston McGee and their dates take a break from dancing.

Sandy Bittle dances to "Shot Gun Boogie."

Seniors and their dates dance the first dance.

Committee Heads pose by the Pink Flamingo. First Row: Larry James, Frank Todd, Clean-up, and Rick Tracy, Decorations. Second Row: Robert Seeley, Bids; Marie Craven, Entertainment, and George Chumbley, General Chairman.

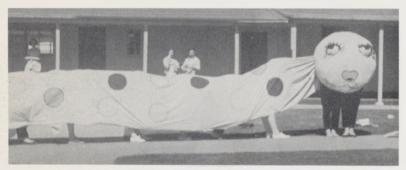

Seniors anxiously await their first dance.

Conrad Ayer and Tony Dover came as a couple.

Bob Wager dresses as an "Old Timer" from the cave age.

Kappa Phi girls show their Kappa Pilliar.

Dressed as a Frenchman and an Englishman are Walter Blethen and James Feather.

Martin Taylor displays a Space Ship.

Senior

Lauren Peterson represents the familiar Mr. Clean. Bill Follmer is in the background.

A pause between bites is taken by these seniors.

These prim Seniors are just arriving at the Banquet.

The Class of "60" listens intently to the entertainment given during the Banquet.

Senior Banquet

April 21, 1960

Principal David Gray gave a short speech to the class before the Banquet got under way.

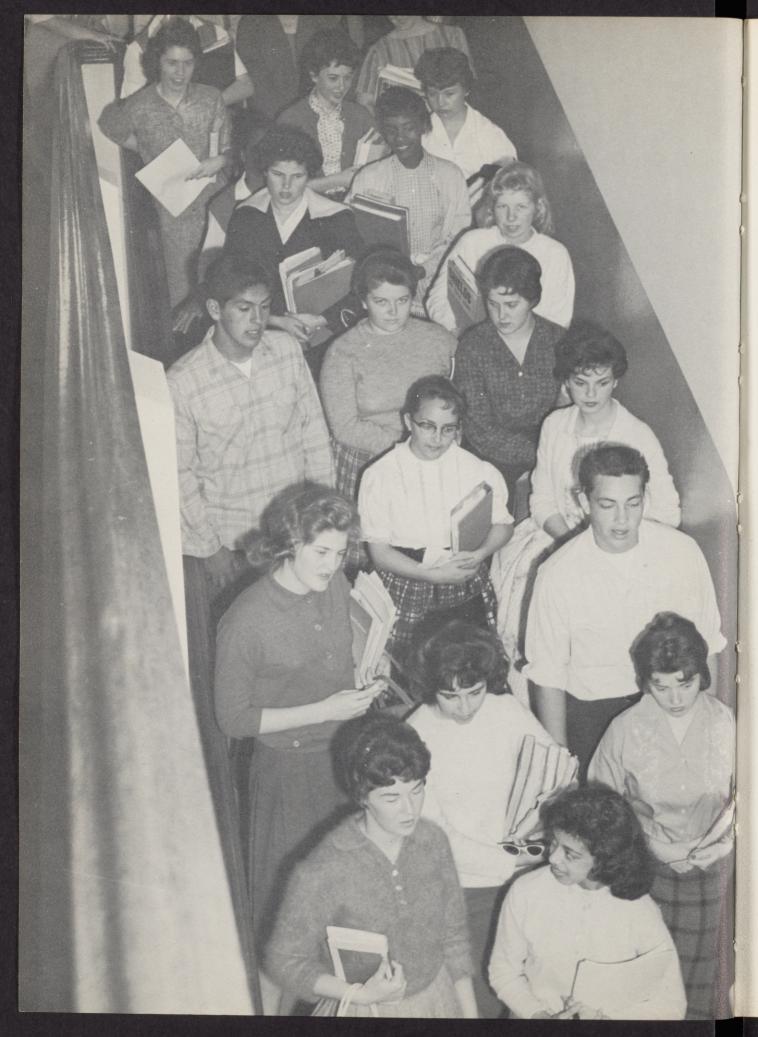

Waiting patiently to begin the dinner are these classmen.

CLASSES

Fall Class Officers: Barry Elison, President; Diane Diaz, Secretary-Treasurer, and Horace Fabig, Vice-President.

Junior Class

Miss Betty Wyland, Faculty Social Sponsor

Mr. Murray Hannah, Head Faculty Social Sponsor

Spring Class Officers: Bob Baroni, President; Karen Costa, Secretary-Treasurer, and Richard Cavoretto, Vice-President.

Another day starts for Joe as he prepares to leave for school

Introducing the Junior Class Section, the Shield Staff would like to present "A Typical Day with a Junior." The object in mind is to take a Junior and follow him through his daily program in order to show his course of study. The Junior we followed is Joe Kosich, who is enrolled in a Commercial Course.

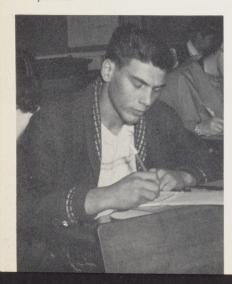

Joe asks Mrs. Beverly Folks for help during Business English, first period.

A Typical Day With A Junior

Although he finds it difficult, Joe enjoys Steno, which he has second period.

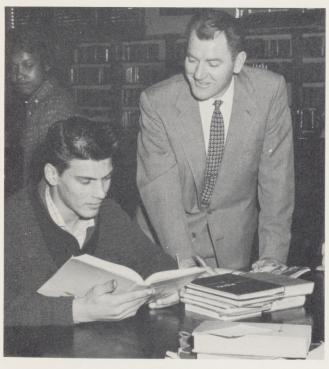

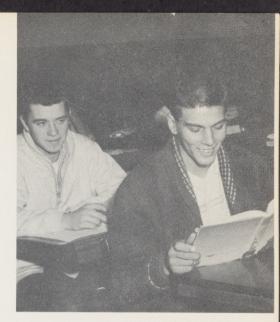

Miss Vera Crosby, Counselor, helps Joe decide what subjects would be beneficial for his Senior year.

Typing periods, four and five, seem to be no object for this third year student.

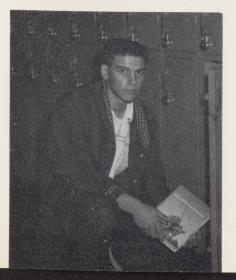

Mr. Ernest Scolari, instructor, assists Joe with a U. S. History question during his third period class which is looking up material for a report in History.

Even though Joe's U. S. History book is open, he doesn't seem to be concentrating during his seventh period Study Hall.

Eighth period this swimming enthusiast enters the bus which will take him to the Richmond Plunge where he participates in the swimming team.

Left: History is next as Joe stops by his locker to get his book.

Right: Pausing between classes, Joe quenches his thirst.

Members of Girls' League serve refreshments to the new students.

Students talk and enjoy refreshments between acts at the Sophomore Party.

Upon arriving in Richmond, Yildiz is welcomed by her new family, Tommy Jr., Peggy, Mrs. Lee, Debbie, Dickie, and Mr. Thomas Lee.

Peggy and Yildiz work diligently to keep their grades high.

Debbie and Dickie listen attentively, as Yildiz reads them a story.

Caught up in a maze of patterns and thread, Yildiz whips up something new for school.

Neither Yildiz nor Debbie seem too overjoyed at the prospect of their dinner.

Something new for Yildiz is driving, which she finds very interesting. Here she is accompanied by Mr. Lee, who gives her a few pointers.

American Field Service Student Exchange Project

This year's exchange student to R. U. H. S. is Yildiz Geyer. Yildiz hails from Heybele'aola, Turkey. She arrived August 8, 1959, and she expects to leave June 23, 1960.

Being auctioned off by Mr. Neill Gunn, Yildiz brings a handsome sum at slave day.

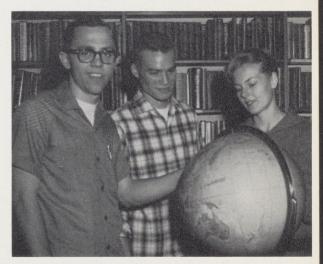

Something catches Yildiz's eye, as Mr. Vernon Youngquist explains the fundamentals of Algebra II.

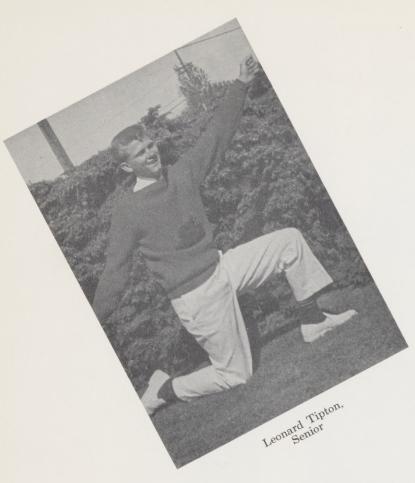

Miss Elaine Dale and Yildiz go over a paper in English, a subject which rates high with this Turkish girl.

Something said during lunch seems to have tickled Yildiz and her friend, Barbara Gariano.

Slave Day March 24, 1960

Slave Day is an annual activity held for the purpose of raising money for the American Field Service Student Exchange Program. Individuals, as well as clubs, bid for slaves in order to help this worthwhile organization. This year the students raised $287.39 at the auction.

Mr. Joe Stenson, conscientious cashier, collects money which will go to the American Field Service.

"It's all there!" This assurance is given to Mr. Joe Stenson by Sue Patchin, as Annette Cena and Slave Richard Moreno look on.

Happy expressions adorn the faces of the Lycee Amies girls as their bidding pays off in the acquiring of a slave.

A common sight during lunch periods on Slave Day is slaves performing various stunts.

Crowd assembles in court to watch slaves "do their stuff."

"Where do you want the tree, Miss Shackleford?" This question is voiced by Carolyn Couser (Susan), standing left, to Mary Ellen Tickner (Miss Shackleford), while Marlene Achin (Ginny Merrill) and Sharon Lancaster (Mary Nell) look on.

"Flowers for the Congresswoman" are presented to Charlotte Raxter (Agatha Reed) by Sherry Fee (Clarisse), Barbara Miller (Carol), and Myra Hibbs (Jo).
